Reflections on Teaching, Learning and You

Have your views changed?

Print This Page

Consider the following questions:

Before you began this Reflections Module what did you believe about learning? What did you believe about teaching? What were your experiences as a teacher? How did you teach?

After completing the Reflections Module, how have your views about learning and teaching changed? How do you now think differently about teaching and learning? What will you do differently as a result?