LEARNER-CENTERED TEACHING IN THE USA

FOURTH INTERNATIONAL FORUM ON EDUCATIONAL REFORM
Bangkok, Thailand
September 5-10, 2004

Presentation by:
DR. L. DEE FINK
Director, Instructional Development Program
University of Oklahoma
&
President
POD Network in Higher Education, USA
LEARNER-CENTERED TEACHING:

- More than a collection of new teaching techniques (how to).
- Is radically different teaching.

Why “RADICALLY DIFFERENT”?

- Changes the distribution of POWER
- Has a different PURPOSE
Learner-Centered Teaching in the USA

Important Resource:

LEARNER-CENTERED TEACHING

By

Maryellen Weimer

Published by:

San Francisco: Jossey-Bass, 2002
Ultimate purpose and goal:

- More than end-of-course learning.

= To help learners become more aware of themselves as learners and thereby able to engage in self-directed learning.

= To promote long-term growth and development in learners.
How can we achieve learner-centered teaching (LCT)?

By making the following changes in teaching:

1. Change the DISTRIBUTION OF POWER
2. Change the FUNCTION OF THE CONTENT
3. Change the ROLE OF THE TEACHER
4. Change the ROLE OF THE STUDENT.
5. Change the FUNCTION OF FEEDBACK AND ASSESSMENT.
1. Change the DISTRIBUTION OF POWER

OLD: The teacher has ALL THE POWER and controls ALL the major decisions.

NEW: The teacher SHARES POWER and allows students to make SOME of the major decisions.
2. Change the FUNCTION OF THE CONTENT

OLD: You want students to GET IT, i.e., to just understand it and remember it.

NEW: You want students to be able to USE IT.
3. Change the ROLE OF THE TEACHER

OLD: To present information, the content, to students, in a clear and organized manner.

NEW: To share some of the decision-making power with students.

To plan learning experiences.

To be a coach for the learners.

To be a guide for the learners.
4. Change the ROLE OF THE STUDENTS

OLD: To understand and remember the content of their courses.

NEW: To make some of the decisions in the course.

To seriously engage in the work of learning.
5. Change the function of FEEDBACK AND ASSESSMENT

OLD: To classify students, as bright or dumb.
To determine the grades that students get.

NEW: To provide important information needed for the work of learning.
How can we achieve LCT?

ANSWER: By making the following changes in teaching:

1. Change the DISTRIBUTION OF POWER
2. Change the FUNCTION OF THE CONTENT
3. Change the ROLE OF THE TEACHER
4. Change the ROLE OF THE STUDENT.
5. Change the FUNCTION OF FEEDBACK AND ASSESSMENT.
What teaching ideas are professors in the USA using, to promote learner-centered teaching?
New Ideas for Teaching in the US:

1. New Ways of DESIGNING COURSES

2. New LEARNING GOALS
   - New TEACHING/LEARNING ACTIVITIES
   - New Forms of FEEDBACK AND ASSESSMENT
1. New Ways of DESIGNING COURSES

INTEGRATED COURSE DESIGN:

- Learning Goals
- Teaching & Learning Activities
- Feedback & Assessment

Situational Factors
2. New LEARNING GOALS

TAXONOMY OF SIGNIFICANT LEARNING
Learner-Centered Teaching in the USA

- New TEACHING/LEARNING ACTIVITIES

ACTIVE LEARNING
Learner-Centered Teaching in the USA

- Small groups:
  - Cooperative learning
  - Problem-Based Learning
  - Team-Based learning

- Service learning:
  - More than “community service”
  - = Community service that is linked to classroom activities

- Reflective writing:
  - 1-minute papers - weekly journals - learning portfolios
Learner-Centered Teaching in the USA

- New Forms of FEEDBACK AND ASSESSMENT

  A. EDUCATIVE ASSESSMENT

  - Authentic assessment
  - Clear criteria and standards
  - Opportunities for self-assessment
Learner-Centered Teaching in the USA

• New Forms of FEEDBACK AND ASSESSMENT

B. 7 Principles of FORMATIVE FEEDBACK

1. Facilitate the development of self-assessment (reflection) in learning.
   - Encourage teacher and peer dialogue around learning.
   - Help clarify what good performance is (goals, criteria, standards expected).
   - Provide opportunities to close the gap between current and desired performance.

(continued)
New Forms of FEEDBACK AND ASSESSMENT

B. 7 Principles of FORMATIVE FEEDBACK (cont.)

4. Deliver high quality information to students about their learning.

- Encourage positive motivational beliefs and self-esteem.
- Provide information to teachers that can be used to help shape the learning.
WHAT IS THE ULTIMATE PURPOSE OF LEARNING IN LIFE?

ANSWER OF LEARNER-CENTERED TEACHING:

• To get a degree?
• To help me get a high-paying job?
• TO PROMOTE MY SPIRITUAL GROWTH
Purpose of Learner-Centered Teaching in the USA

Purpose of Learner-Centered Teaching?

- Development of Virtue (Individual Improvement)
- Development of ability to Help Others (Community Improvement)

= Spiritual Growth
LEARNER-CENTERED TEACHING:
A RADICALLY DIFFERENT WAY OF TEACHING

- Changes the distribution of POWER
- Has a different PURPOSE
QUESTION:

How do you get faculty to use this new kind of teaching?

This will be the topic of my keynote presentation on Friday Morning!
THE END
Learner-Centered Teaching in the USA